Dear Quantess Member

Due to the new General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the increasing recognition on the importance of data privacy for personal data, we are taking this opportunity to write to you about our privacy policy and the way that we keep in touch with you.

Quantess London has been a growing social organisation since 2014, having over 100 active members opted in to our group to get involved thus far. Your consent and continued support in engaging with fellow quantesses have fueled our growth, and we are committed to our missions and to our members as always.

We want to set out here to explain to you what data we collect, why we collect it, how we use it, who we share it with and other information in relation to the privacy of your data because it is important to recognise. Please take your time to read our privacy policy below. If you would like to continue receiving our communications, you must agree with our updated Privacy Policy.

- what: we collect data on your name, email address and optionally the organisation that you are part of
- why: we send emails and newsletters to keep Quantess active and members informed on events, conferences, presentation opportunities and any other news relating to the ongoing activity and mission of

Quantess London

- how: we keep our member mailing list private and protected. For seminar events, our corporate sponsors gather only the names of all attendees for security purpose, for which we will pass on attendee's name details to the organiser. For any other occasion we will require the member consent
- who: as above, we only share member attendee names with the corporate sponsors that host the venue of our seminars for security reason. We do not share your details with any other groups unless we have sought for member consent in advance in case of events, invites or presentations

You will be informed immediately if we update our terms and conditions or privacy policy. We will make sure all the above can also be found directly from our webpage for existing and new members to review.

As always you are in control of the emails you receive from us. If you wish to unsubscribe from our list at any time or have any queries, please drop us an email.

Have a lovely week and please follow our stories on #StrataData week!

Best

Quantess London
